Revised Oregon Policy on CCC-502

Approved by:

Larry E. Frey, State Executive Director

Jg

1 Overview

A Background

Previously Oregon has issued policy to require annually that the producer certify on CCC-502, CCC-502U, CCC-502 Continuation or that the CED certify that the producer reviewed CCC-502.

This policy was adopted because large overpayments can occur if a producer fails to notify the office of a change that would affect payment limitation and/or payment eligibility determinations. This policy will be continued with a change that will be effective beginning October 1, 2004.

2 Removal of Written Statement

A Programs Requiring CCC-502

Oregon policy will require that for any producer participating in a program that requires certification on CCC-502, one of the following must be signed by the producer prior to receiving payment:

- New CCC-502
- New CCC-502U and/or CCC-502 Continuation

The above requirement must be completed at least once per year for any new program signup that occurs during the year or for any program that requires an annual signup.

A written statement certified by the CED that the previously filed CCC-502 was reviewed with the participant will no longer be acceptable starting October 1, 2004.

B CCC-502 When there are no Changes

If there are no changes to the farming operation since the previous CCC-502, then attach a photocopy of the most previous CCC-502 to a new CCC-502U and have the participant sign the new CCC-502U.
